The low dollar is buying gadgets in America now cheap. Unfortunately many U.S. webshops not send outside America. There is now a solution.

Always the latest equipment from house to fetch is nice, but unfortunately also costly. The low dollar makes buying of electronics into the United States attractive to Europeans. Smart entrepreneurs have that by and for that reason shoot at this moment 'forward mail services' in America from the ground.

The idea is simple: the forwarder has a large warehouse that they have divided into different categories, each cell with its own mailbox. Such a mailbox can be rented. The forwarder provides you with the details and this address to your heart, you can do when buying U.S. shopping sites. At the checkout include your U.S. address where the package sent to your mailbox.

At the time that the packet has reached your mailbox, you get an email from the forwarder. With one press of a button is the package via DHL forwarded to the Netherlands. The shipping you can see in advance, and pays you (fortunately) are also in dollars.

If you have several orders made at various shopping sites you can also consolidate packages. That means that all packets forwarder uitpakt and content inpakt again in a big box. This saves a lot of shipping. Ultimately it comes down to you to the products of light would also vrijwilt pay no shipping costs.

There are a significant number of mail forwarders from which you can choose (asks you to the joke even Google). After a significant number of reviews I have read to the conclusion that MyUS.com the biggest company, but BongoUS.com the best buy. They provide most of the options including live chat with the help desk. And that is a fine idea if a MacBook Air of $ 2000 is just waiting for you in your mailbox American (I speak from experience).

As an entrepreneur, you can save a salad from the cheap dollar by smart to buy in America, but you can also back to your children with a pile of clothes and your husband or wife with a pile of American biscuits.

Alexander Hi, nice hint, I agree ga BongoUS look at. But, is it not true that you must have an American credit? Regelmatig I note that I just can not order because overseas credit cards not accepted (conversely, when an American relationship me recently wanted to do something through a gift NL site, his credit card was not accepted). Can you do something about this?
